Contract agreement: Too Much Fun! will supply the "Photo King" professional photo booth in clean, properly working condition. One attendant will staff the photo booth and a large selection of party props will be available for guest use. There will be unlimited photographs available to the guests during the agreed upon time frame. Guests may also leave video messages for the guests of honor, and email or post their photographs to Facebook. A credit card # will be required in advance to rent photo booth. It is understood if any guests intentionally damage the photo booth or break or steal party props, you will be charged on your credit card for those items, at our costs. Too Much Fun! will provide an itemized listing to the renting party, in the event if any charges need to be made.
